for Renewal of License.

Gen. Fitz John Porter appeared before the Excise Board to-day at the head of a delegation of West Forty-seventh street residents, They objected to a license being granted to Emil Schneider for a hotel at 104 West Forty-seventh street.

The General, after being placed under oath, said he resided at 119 West Forty-seventh street, diagonally opposite the place in question, which was known as the Forty-seventh street, diagonally opposite the place in question, which was known as the Forty-seventh street concert hall.

This place has been run for some years by a man named Gustave Farrell, but an application for the renewal of the license had been made by Emil Schneider, Gen. Forter held that the place was disreputable, and the noise emanating from it kept the residents of the vicinity awake until after 1 o'clock in the morning.

In order to ascertain the character of the people who patronized it he said he stood outside of the entrance one evening and a good-looking girl tapped him on the shoulder and asked if he did not wish to take her inside. He instignantly declined.

The Connection of the vicinity the policeman Daniel J. O'Connell arrested Annle Islar last night for loitering on Worth street. While escorting the woman to the Elizabeth street station. O'Connell says he was halled by Murphy somewhat after this fashion:

"Drop that woman, or I'll smack yer in the snoot. See?"

She salled Nov. 26, and the next news of her came from the Cunard liner Etruria, to whose captain she signalled Dec. 6 wished to be taken in tow. The Etruria reported that a very heavy gale was rough weather. The third and last time that any news of her has been reported was when the Sagamore, a British tramp steamship, reached Liverpool. The captain of the Sagamore stated that he had been signalled by the Burgermeister Petersen that she wished to be taken in tow. The that she wished to be taken in tow. The same rough weather prevented him from giving a line to the tank vessel, which was then approaching Halifax, having rigged a jury rudder.

At the office of Gustave Heye, of the Standard Oil Company, to whom she is consigned, it was stated this morning that no fears were entertained for her safety. Capt. Burger, who commands her, it was said, is one of the pluckiest captains who sails the Atlantic, and the consignee is confident that he will bring the ship into port.
